For more than 155 years, we helped farmers grow more, connecting them to broader markets. We continuously developing products that give consumers just what they are seeking, advancing nutrition, food safety and sustainability. Cargill works alongside farmers, producers, manufacturers, retailers, governments, and other organizations to fulfill the purpose to nourish the world in a safe, responsible and sustainable way. Together, we create efficiencies, develop innovations, and help communities thrive.

As Cargill, we increase our impact through special programs and corporate contributions in line with UN Sustainable Development Agenda 2030 and our self-definition and determined goals. Thus, we try to engage, empower and advance sustainable practices across farms and fields. Therefore in 2019, we launched the 1000 Farmers Endless Prosperity Program (1000FEP - 1000 Çiftçi 1000 Bereket) to enhance farmers' productivity, improve their livelihoods and increase their yields and earnings via regenerative agriculture practices, and innovative digital technologies. The program provides field-specific consultancy from sowing to harvest to the highest number of farmers in Türkiye and reached more than 5,000 corn, sunflower, and canola farmers in 18 provinces in its fifth year. We implement training programs on the effective use of resources such as water, fertilizers, and pesticides, strengthening financial literacy, increasing the awareness of cost calculation, sustainability and climate change, and spreading occupational health and safety culture in the field. The farmers in the program achieved yield increase of up to 21% in 2019, 26% in 2020, 23% in 2021, and 20% in 2022. It is the first agricultural program in Türkiye to calculate social impact. Each TRY 1 investment ensured a social return of TRY 2.53 in 2019, TRY 2.78 in 2020, TRY 3.03 in 2021, and TRY 3.23 in 2022. We have cooperated with the Ministry of Family, Labor, and Social Services, the agricultural technologies company Doktar, the Financial Literacy and Inclusion Association (FODER), and academicians and various institutions for successful implementation.

As a result of all our hard work and effort, our program has received a total of forty-two awards, thirty-four international and eight domestic, in the fifth years. Of these awards, have been awarded one in the first year and, five in the second year. In its third year, the program has accepted the most awards, with eighteen awards. In its fourth year, the program retained its title of receiving the most awards with fourteen awards. In addition, in 2023 has already been honored with four international award. With the motivation we derive from the program's success, we will continue to increase its impact, and thrive.
